

HARRIMAN LINES TO FIGHT DECISION

Spokane Rate Case to Be Carried to Courts on Ground of Being Unfair.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 31.—The Harriman lines, according to W. W. Cotton, general attorney for the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, will contest in the courts the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission in the case commonly known as the Spokane rate case on the ground that the Harriman lines are compelled to carry freight a much longer distance in order to deliver it at Spokane from eastern points than is the Great Northern or Northern Pacific.

Mr. Cotton makes the point, using class A freight as an illustration, that the rate from Chicago to Spokane is fixed by the interstate commerce commission at $2.50, and the rate from St. Paul to Spokane at $2.50 per hundredweight. In the same classification, Mr. Cotton points out, the rate from St. Paul to coast points is $2.50, and from Chicago to coast points $2.50, notwithstanding the fact that the Harriman lines, in many hundreds of miles less to the coast than it is to Spokane.

The burden of the contention of the Harriman attorney is that the rate fixed discriminates in favor of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, which are competitors of the Harriman system.

RAILROADS MAY GRANT COAL RATE REDUCTION

F. H. Plaisted, assistant general freight agent of the Oregon Short Line, declared Wednesday that he did not know whether there would be a reduction in the rate on coal this season or not. "But," he added, "if such a reduction is made, it will be with the distinct understanding on the part of the railroad that the consumer, and not the dealer, will get the benefit."

Mr. Plaisted declared that as he had just returned from a trip to the east, he was not fully prepared to speak definitely upon the subject of a reduction, but in discussing the matter he said that when such reductions had been made in former years to encourage the summer storage of coal, the cut of 25 cents per ton granted by the railroads, and sometimes the additional 25 cents on each ton authorized by the mines, had never been beyond the dealer, and the small consumer, for whose benefit the rate was made, paid just the same price for his coal as he always did.

"For these reasons," declared Mr. Plaisted, "the storage plan was not a success, because the consumer did not get the benefit of the reduction. Should there be another reduction the railroads must know absolutely beforehand that the consumer will get the intended benefit, and not the dealer."

OFFICIALS TO BE PRESENT AT TURNING IN OF WATER

Assistant General Passenger Agent Dan S. Spencer of the Oregon Short Line, Traffic Manager B. Perkins of the Twin Falls branch of the Oregon Short Line, and W. S. Kuhn of Pittsburg, left this city Tuesday night for Twin Falls, to be present at the turning in of the water to the north side irrigation project at Jerome. The ceremonies attending the opening will be held today.

Mr. Kuhn, who is the president of the North Side Twin Falls Land and Water company, said that the water will be used in irrigating over 14,000 acres of excellent land. J. H. Purdy, secretary of the land and water company, also was a member of the party.

TESTIMONY ENDS IN NEVADA RATE CASE

RENO, Nev., March 31.—Shortly after noon today, Special Examiner Lyon closed the hearing for taking testimony in the case of the Nevada railroad commission against the Southern Pacific company and the Nevada-California railway.

The testimony offered by the plaintiffs supported their contention that the merchants of Nevada charged excessive rates in excess of the rate charged the so-called California terminal cities, such rates to Nevada points under the service rendered being discriminatory and unfair, that goods delivered at Reno direct from the coast point of origin were charged the same rate as shipments that moved through to the coast and then distributed from Reno to the various points, that to necessity existed for hauling shipments over the heavy and expensive mountain grades and then returning them to Reno. In this case the plaintiffs showed that the railroad could not sustain such a scheme of rates as being lawful.

NORTHERN PACIFIC IS STUNG FOR $100,000

SPOKANE, March 31.—After litigation extending over twenty-three years, Joseph H. Boyd, president of the National Iron works in this city, has been awarded a judgment of $100,000 against the Northern Pacific railroad. This judgment has just been handed down by Judge Whitson in the supreme court.

The case began in 1886, Mr. Boyd suing to recover money advanced by him to the contractor who built the roadbed of the Coeur d'Alene Railway & Navigation company, between Old Mission, Ida., and the Coeur d'Alene. Later the company became bankrupt, and the property, with the law suit, was acquired by the Northern Pacific.

Enjoying Yacht Cruise.

NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—Julius Kruttschnitt, the director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, accompanied by members of his family and a party of friends, left New Orleans today on E. H. Harriman's yacht Sultana, for a cruise of several weeks in the Gulf. The guests of Mr. Kruttschnitt are S. M. Felton, former president of the Mexican Central and Chicago & Alton; Chief Engineer Hood of the Southern Pacific company, and C. W. Jenson, manager of the Southern Pacific steamship lines.

Suit to Enjoin Commission.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Suit to enjoin the Interstate Commerce commission from enforcing a recent order directing the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road to restate and maintain joint rates on coal shipments from the Illinois coal field, was filed in the United States circuit court today by the railroad company. The bill seeks to have a permanent injunction issued against the commission and to have the order of the commission annulled.

Harriman Squanders One Cent.

CLINTON, Ill., March 31.—E. H. Harriman stopped from his special train here this afternoon and spent one cent on a weighing machine, which registered 141 pounds. Mr. Harriman expressed satisfaction about his gain in flesh.

PROTESTS AGAINST ACTION OF PINCHOT

Montana Judge Holds Chief Forester Is Wrong in Withdrawing Certain Lands.

DILLON, Mont., March 31.—District Judge Lew L. Callaway, chairman of the Montana conservation commission, has made an energetic protest to Gifford Pinchot, in connection with the recent withdrawal from settlement or entry of immense tracts of lands lying along the Beaver Head river in Beaver Head county are those lying high on the bench grounds, on which scores of dry farmers are now settling, and to continue the withdrawal order in effect as it pertains to these lands, will result in irreparable damage to Montana. The land withdrawn is utterly unfit, declares Judge Callaway, for purposes of power sites, and the drastic order can only result in the dissatisfaction of the people with the administration in its efforts to conserve the resources of the country.

The chief forester is asked to take up the matter with President Taft in an effort to have that portion of the withdrawal order rescinded where the lands embraced are such as will not afford power sites and are adaptable to cultivation.

RAILROAD NOTES

A party of fifty excursionists arrived in this city Wednesday morning on their way home from the west. They remained here throughout the day and will leave tonight over the Denver & Rio Grande for the east.

General Manager A. C. Ridgway, J. C. Daitley, general superintendent of the Utah division, and S. V. Derrah, traffic manager for the Utah division, the Denver & Rio Grande, passed Wednesday inspecting the Sappho branch of the line.

D. E. Burley, general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line, has returned from a short business trip to Boise, Ida.

J. W. Ellingson, chief clerk in the local office of the Salt Lake Route, has gone down the line upon a business trip in connection with the interests of the road.

It is unofficially stated that plans for the new $100,000 freight depot to be erected in Ogden by the Harriman interests are being prepared and will be completed and referred to the head of the Harriman interests in this city within a short time. It is also stated that plans for the new foundry are being completed and will be considered at the same time as are the plans for the freight depot.

Immigrant traffic on the lines passing through this city and Ogden has reached a new high-water mark. The past week has been an exceptionally busy one, and more than 1,000 aliens, mainly Poles and Italians, have passed on their way to the extreme northwest. This influx of foreigners will be further augmented in about ten days, when ten shiploads will arrive at New York and other Atlantic ports.

A. J. Scott, secretary to R. M. Calkins, traffic manager of the St. Paul extension to the Pacific coast, is in this city on a business trip. Mr. Scott says there is a perceptible picking up in railroad business in the east.

H. F. Curtis, general agent for the Nickel Plate line, is in Salt Lake on a business trip. Mr. Curtis says there is a perceptible picking up in railroad business in the east.

Adolph Drahos, traveling freight agent for the Pacific coast, has returned from a trip to Ely, Nev. He reports that while there he learned of the granting of a franchise for the laying of the rail for the Ely & Goldfield road, that construction work on the road will begin in the near future.

L. G. Skirlis, the Greek labor agent, has returned from a trip over the Western Pacific road. He says his company has about 600 laborers on the road and that they are now laying track at the rate of a mile each day.

C. S. Williams, commercial agent in this city for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, has returned from San Francisco, where he has been visiting friends in company with his wife.

The announcement to railroad people is made that the funeral of Mrs. Libbie Gartside will take place from 255 Seventh Avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Dr. Paden officiating. Mrs. Gartside, who died Tuesday, was the wife of W. K. Gartside, of the western association and inspection bureau, and a sister of George E. Mantle, assistant chief clerk in the freight department of the Oregon Short Line. The burial will be in the Mt. Olivet, where the ritual of the Women of Woodcraft, of which order Mrs. Gartside was a member, will be read.

YOUNG WOMAN BECOMES TEMPORARILY INSANE

Becoming temporarily insane, Cella Hogan, employed at the residence of William Dunn, 150 East Sixth South street, 16 years old, jumped through a first-story window of the Dunn home and ran out to the street, tearing her hair and attempting to injure all who came near her. Miss Hogan became insane at 7 o'clock Wednesday night, and as those at the Dunn house were unable to manage her, the police were notified. Sergeant Beckstead and Patrolman Simpson took the girl to the county jail, where she was placed in a padded cell. Mr. Dunn said that the girl had been similarly affected a month ago, and that the fit of insanity left her as suddenly as it came. She will be kept in the county jail for a few days, with the hope that she will again become sane.

When attacked by the mental aberration, Miss Hogan was fully dressed, except that she had on no shoes. After jumping from the window she ran to the street and said: "I'm going to take a swim, and jumped into the ditch by the roadside."

TAFT WILL TREAD SOFTLY AND MAY USE "BIG STICK"

CHICAGO, March 31.—"From the headquarters of the commander-in-chief, general orders have gone forth that augur ill for 'the enemy,' the trusts," says the Tribune today.

"Soft pedal on the nose," say the orders; "cut out the talk and get results; take lessons from the enemy; maintain absolute secrecy about your maneuvers; deploy your forces in ambush; conceal your movements; and spring from unexpected quarters. Let your glory be in results, not in prophecies of what you are going to do."

This is the substance of the new order which has been sent out from the executive office at the White House, to be promulgated through the office of the attorney-general and to every district attorney and every special attorney engaged in the 'trust busting' war now being waged by the United States government.

"The information is authentic, coming as it does from no less authority than Wade H. Ellis, assistant attorney-general in charge of prosecutions against violators of the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws. Mr. Ellis is due today in Columbus, O., where important government cases are pending."

It is, it was, a paralyzing parody on pure politics. It was presented by the people who know; by the real men of the hour; by the fellows who toll while others sleep; who know the ins and outs of the life that most people lead in the city where they live, in other cities where they don't live. This is "The Bungle," what the Press club of Salt Lake presented to Salt Lake playgoers Wednesday afternoon and night. A capacity audience gave the players, in return for their cordial welcome, and in return the players gave playgoers the best amateur show ever given on the Salt Lake stage.

"The Bungle" is a parody on politics—local politics. It is based upon an intimate knowledge and personal experience. The lines are clever; in many instances more than clever. The newspaper game is a great game. It is always a game. Each and everyone in a newspaper office plays a part daily. It may be the most important part, it may be the humblest, but like the cogs in a wheel they all work together, all play their part.

It is on this stage that those who portray the characters in "The Bungle" learned their parts. These players know the political boss, the political graffer, the ins and the outs of the political world. Daily contact with the world where all the innate rusesness that exists is poured into their ears, and they view this world differently from those in other vocations.

It is possible that in "The Bungle" there were toes trodden upon, that there was a sting here and another there. That under the bandage and the harmless disguise there was something that might have a different construction put upon it rather than that which was intended. But, after all, it was intended simply as a satire, simply to show what might be, what does happen, what does exist, but try it in the town wherein you live. This was "The Bungle."

Play was born in Zion. Its author lives here, likewise those who participated, and it is a corking good show. When the big audience passed from the portals of the old playhouse on Wednesday night it was the universal opinion that they had been enlightened. They had seen the political boss as he is seen in real life in other cities than Zion. They had learned the ways and means adopted by the Butchers' and Grocers' trust regarding prices and how they are made in other cities than Zion. They had seen the inside of a city editor's office, not on a busy night, but as it is every day.

Farnsworth Qualifies.

W. H. Farnsworth, the new member of the state land board, qualified for the office Wednesday by filing his bond with the secretary of state. The bond is for $10,000, with James Chipman and Rodney C. Badger as sureties. Farnsworth will probably be chosen secretary of the board, in which event he will have to give bond in the sum of $500,000.

Rig is Missing.

Tying his horse, to which was hitched a light top buggy, at the corner of E street and South Temple street, Arthur Swindell, residing at 1205 South First street, upon returning to get his rig, found both horse and buggy missing. Mr. Swindell thinks his rig has been stolen, and the affair was reported to the police. The horse was a sorrel.

No Cause of Action.

No cause of action was the verdict of the jury in Judge Armstrong's court Wednesday afternoon in the suit of S. D. Parver against E. H. Hashimoto, a Japanese, who had sued Parver for $100,000, claiming that Parver had stolen his rig and buggy. The jury found for Parver, and the case was dismissed.

Everybody Knows What Constipation Is

Everybody Should Know What Hunyadi Janos Is

A large proportion of humanity suffers from constipation. How many of us are there who do not know the distress, pain and general discomfort resulting from failure of the bowels to move regularly. And does not this suffering seem foolishly unnecessary when we realize that it can be avoided by the use of the proper and simple remedy HUNYADI JANOS Water, the great Natural Laxative. It is not only the most efficacious remedy, but also the most inexpensive. The cost of a large bottle is but a trifle and it contains many doses, as a turn-of-mind, it is a great blessing. It gives certain, quick and thorough action. A pleasant and natural relief without griping or bad after effects. Try it. Look out for unscrupulous druggists, who will substitute unless you ask for HUNYADI JANOS.

Close Inspection At FORT DOUGLAS POST

Wednesday morning, at Fort Douglas military post, the various battalions were inspected by the commanding officer, and staff, and the men, their arms, equipment and quarters were subjected to a thorough scrutiny. The inspection was followed by guard mount. A number of visitors from the city were present to look on. The inspection of the post, started at 9 o'clock on a ninety-mile ride as a test of horsemanship and military fitness. He was accompanied by Governor J. M. Armstrong and Captain T. R. Barker. The journey will include a trip to Lehi and southward until forty-five miles have been covered, when the return will be made over the same route. The ride must be completed within three days.

night in all well-regulated newspaper offices like The Salt Lake Tribune. And all of this big audience voted "The Bungle" a hummer.

To speak in praise of any one of those who participated would be to praise all, for the characters were admirably portrayed. The three female characters, namely, Chloa Workem, portrayed by Carl Williams; Iola Forme, society editor and sister of the new mayor, portrayed by Jay E. Johnson; Ida Gross, stenographer for the R. G., portrayed by Kenneth C. Kerr, were all splendidly represented. Their makeup was perfect, their acting more than good.

This play offers opportunities of a different kind from those of last season's magnificent success, "Antony and Cleopatra." "The Winter's Tale" is less extensive in its demands for showy and superficial embellishments, but more extensive and varied in its acting requirements.
